RESTAURANTS IN MUNICH

Atelier Hotel Bayerischer Hof **

Based on the proven foundation of haute cuisine, head chef Anton Gschwendtner shows that enjoyment can also be a work of art on the plate. With its puristic, French cuisine with Asian influences and the use of seasonal and regional products, the definition of pleasure experiences a very special touch. Of course, always with the aim of continuing the highly successful path of the studio in the future. In the luxuriously simple design created by Axel Vervoordt, you will experience the flair of an artist's studio with an intimate atmosphere

Garden

Enjoy art for all senses. The culinary concept combines classics with contemporary, light dishes with seasonal vegetables and fresh herbs. Awarded 15 Gault Millau points, 6 pans in Gusto and 3 chef's hats in the Big Guide, the Garden offers an imaginative combination of exquisite ingredients. The winter garden, designed by the renowned Belgian designer and art dealer Axel Vervoordt, looks like an artist's studio with an adjoining garden terrace thanks to accents in the industrial style. A fireplace separates the restaurant from the garden salon.

Blue Spa Lounge & Winter Garden

Opening Hours

Mon. – Sun.

11:00 – 23:00

Address:

Hotel Bayerischer Hof

Probably Munich's best-known and most popular roof terrace. As this is a spa where your well-being takes centre stage, enjoyment is, of course, an essential part of the experience. Indulge yourself with the light creations of our Spa kitchen and, in summer, enjoy drinks in our Summer Lounge on the extensive Blue Spa terrace. The glass winter garden, designed by star architect Andrée Putman, opens up a panoramic view over Munich's rooftops, whereas the open fireplace invites you to tarry a while. This is an exclusive pleasure that you won't experience anywhere else.

Palais Keller

Opening Hours

Seasonal Reopening 14.09.2022

Address:

Hotel Bayerischer Hof

The Palais Keller does not only convince with its tasteful ambiance and its sophisticated delicacies but also through its gripping long history. Originally it was used as a local salt warehouse in 1443 until 1972, when Falk Volkhardt opened the Palais Keller as a Bavarian restaurant. With a sensitivity for historic building structures as well as his intuitiveness for form, colors and materials, the Belgian interior designer Axel Vervoordt created energy and new dimensions in 2019, to serve traditional Bavarian cuisine in a venue of peacefulness and simplicity.

Address:

Johann-Fichte-Strasse 7

80805 Munich

Tantris Maison Culinaire is craftsmanship, great cuisine and living hospitality. Externally unchanged, the restaurant has been given a few modern touches inside - the walk-in glass wine cabinet is striking. Fans of the legendary "Tantris" style can still be happy: The interior is still reminiscent of the 70s and has lost none of its charm and originality! The cuisine is still heavily influenced by France. The menus are accompanied by the right wine - but you shouldn't forget to take a look at the impressive wine list!

Showroom *

Opening Hours

Mon. – Fri.

18:00 – 01:00

Address:

Lilienstrasse 6

81669 Munich

The name "Showroom" is exactly what it is, because this is where chef Dominik Käppeler presents the entire range of his creativity to the guests. A menu with five to eight courses is offered, namely a surprise menu. You just choose the number of courses and indicate which ingredients you don't like, the rest is up to the kitchen team. High-quality products (one is proud of the Bavarian Wagyu, for example) are prepared in a modern way and with their own ideas, sometimes with a playful note or unusual combinations. In addition, there is an urban ambience and friendly, attentive service, including interesting wine recommendations. The chef also comes to the table and explains the menu concept.

Werneckhof Sigi Schelling *

The best products, no great fanfare - Sigi Schelling cooks according to this principle. Focusing on first-class seasonal products and bringing their full taste to the plate in an unadulterated manner - a philosophy that she was already pursuing in the "Tantris" days alongside her mentor Hans Haas. After 14 years in the cult "Tantris", Sigi Schelling is now taking off here in the traditional "Werneckhof" near the English Garden. Behind the decorative yellow facade, the stylish character of the past has been consciously preserved and successfully combined with chic retro-look armchairs and modern art.

Gabelspiel *

Opening Hours

Tue. – Sat.

18:30 – 00:00

Address:

Zehentbauernstrasse 20

81539 Munich

The completely unpretentious and pleasant family atmosphere of the Gabelspiel casts a spell on the guests - you can feel the lifeblood of the host couple! The sympathetic female boss is also in the service - incredibly friendly and professionally trained, she ensures that everything runs smoothly. But the modern cuisine made from regional ingredients also attracts guests. What you get here in the form of a menu are first-class products such as the char served in a sheet of nori. The owner shows really great craftsmanship and skillfully implements his experience in star gastronomy (including "Hangar 7", "Tantris", "Restaurant N° 15").

Tian*

Opening Hours

Wed. – Sat.

12:00 – 15:00 & 18:00 – 23:00

Address:

Frauenstrasse 4

80469 Munich

"From the root to the leaf" - that is the motto in Tian. Vegetarian cuisine is more than just vegetables, as the chefs prove every day. But the vegetables are of course the main player. And depending on the season, products are used that are brought fresh from the field to the restaurant from the region. In order to always offer guests something special, Tian looks for special rarities, experiment with different cooking and fermentation methods and work on the perfect plate right down to the last minute. And since the entire product is processed from the root to the leaf, not only all kinds of vegetable variations are created, but also the most wonderful stocks, gels or essences.

Schwarzreiter *

Straightforward or with a love of detail, always light and freshly cooked: The Young Bavarian Cuisine from chef de cuisine Hannes Reckziegel focuses on Bavarian and regional products. You will encounter a Bavarian component in every dish - whether as the main element, in the way it is prepared or in the side dish. Incidentally, the Schwarzreiter fish was the favorite dish of King Ludwig, whose father King Maximilian II had the Four Seasons built in 1858.

RESTAURANTS IN MUNICH

Sparkling Bistro *

The pretty little bistro is a bit hidden in the Amalienpassage, but it's worth the search! This is ensured by excellent cuisine and a pleasant atmosphere. You don't have to fear rigid etiquette, it's actually nice and relaxed and uncomplicated here. The service is courteous, natural and very friendly, and also when it comes to wine you are well advised here. Uncompromising product cuisine - "A feeling for subtle aromas and well thought-out structure on the plate" according to the Michelin Guide 2022.

CONTEMPORARY DINING - EAT LOCAL, DRINK NATURAL.

The Mural restaurant in the former substation of the Munich municipal utility - today's MUCA - has set the headline as the ultimate maxim. The team around chef Joshua Leise attaches particular importance to getting the most out of simple, carefully selected products. In cooperation with small, regional producers and in the constant search for the best seasonal products, they serve contemporary dishes at the highest level. Corresponding to your menu, Wolfgang Hingerl, managing director and sommelier of the Mural, takes you on an unusual journey with everything the international wine scene has to offer. The focus here is on naturally produced wines from exceptional winegrowers.

Green Beetle by Käfer

Vegetarian-vegan restaurant with a green star and sustainable design by Mang Mauritz. Here, the entire concept is geared towards sustainability from the very beginning, starting with the tiles, wall panelling, furniture and kitchen technology through to the food and drink menu. But with all the focus on the environment and health, the Green Beetle should be one thing above all:

A place of relaxed enjoyment, connection with family and friends, a bar where you eat, drink and experience. Definitely worth a visit for everyone

Zum Goldenen Kalb

Opening Hours

Tue. – Sat.

17:00 - 22:00

Address:

Utzschneiderstrasse 1

80469 Munich

The "Zum Goldenen Kalb" is the first and only New York steak house directly opposite the Schrammehalle on the Viktualienmarkt. The name says it all and the meat is truly in the foreground. Guests are accompanied by the service to the meat maturing cabinet and, depending on their taste and preference, are individually advised on the large and high-quality steak selection. The selected piece is then prepared on HaJaTec's charcoal grill, which creates the finely smoky, unique taste.

"More than meat" is the motto here, even if steaks naturally play the main role at The Grill. Origin, season and sustainability are always the focus of the kitchen. This also applies to fish and shellfish, which enrich the menu with modern interpretations. Selected seasonal side dishes and refined homemade sauces accompany the dishes. The same claim applies, of course, to the carefully selected bar and wine list. Enjoy an unforgettable evening in the modern-historical ambience or the inviting roof terrace of the Künstlerhaus.
